RUN-DOWN
PEOPLE

FOR WEAK, RUN-DOWN CONDITIONS

Why is it that men and women rush through life at such speed, regardless of tired bodies, exhausted brains, overtaxed stomachs and sleepless nights, with only one object in view—accumulating money—until they are run-down, debilitated, weak and nervous, suffer from headaches, indigestion and sleepless nights, and know nothing of the joys of living?

The Boards of Health in cities and towns all over this country have awakened to the fact that mortality is on the increase and are forming Hygiene Departments with the object of teaching the people the necessity of conserving health and vitality by exercises and right living.

TREATMENT.—If you are weak, nervous, all tired out, generally run-down, and without strength, energy or appetite, restless and cannot sleep—work less, exercise more, eat nutritious food and take

HYDROPLANE FOR CAPITAL SOUGHT

New Assistant War Secretary Interested in Campaign for Defense.

WOULD SERVE AS PATROL

Maj. J. C. Castner to Head Crusade. Organization Meeting Called for Tomorrow Night.

William M. Ingraham, the new Assistant Secretary of War, managed a winning campaign in Portland, Maine, of which he was mayor, a few months ago, to provide his city with a military hydroplane, and with his transfer to Washington comes the announcement that a similar crusade is to begin at once in Washington to get a similar machine for the defense of the District of Columbia. According to a statement given out last night by Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, U. S. N. retired, a Washington chapter of the National Aerial Coast Patrol Commission, of which he is chairman, will be organized and in full swing within the week.

Major J. C. Castner, of the regular army, now on detail as adjutant general of the District of Columbia militia, will lead the local campaign, aided by Commander J. E. Dempf, head of the naval battalion here. Major Castner is also on the National Aerial Coast Patrol Commission, in company with John Hays Hammond, Jr., Senator Johnson, of Maine; Senator Sheppard, of Texas; Emerson McMillin, of New York City, and a number of other distinguished Americans.

A meeting looking toward definite organization will be held tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock, in room 337 Southern Building. Washington is on the national coastal defense chart of the association as one of the strategic points where an aerial station for offensive and defensive purposes must be located.

LITTLE TIME LEFT IN WHICH TO WIN $500

Washington Herald's Diamond Counting Contest Will Close May 3. So Enter Now.

Once more the warning is given that time to enter The Herald's diamond puzzle contest is becoming limited, and unless you get busy within the next week you will have thrown away one of the not too many chances to possess with very small effort a very considerable bank roll. To be exact, you have until May 3 to enter this interesting contest. As the time of entry cuts no figure in the winning, those who get busy now will have just the same chance as those who have already filed their results with the contest manager.

While the illusive diamonds are not easy to compile into one total, there is no trick about the puzzle, and through the application of accuracy and patience you will place yourself in line to win one of the very attractive prizes, the largest of which is $500, not a very insignificant sum in these days of the high cost of living, is it?

If anybody reads this article and wishes further information than is contained either in it or in the advertisement elsewhere, all he has to do is to call up the contest department by telephone or drop an inquiry by letter, and the information will be forthcoming immediately. In any event, do not pass up the opportunity this diamond puzzle offers to those who could conveniently find a way to dispose of $500.

THE OPEN FORUM.

ed. *** No other nation was ever born into the world with the purpose of serving the rest of the world just as much as it served itself.

No American can take exception to these sentiments, any more than he could take exception to the Declaration of Independence. Perfect diction, accurate measurements and correct weighing of essentials. We have seen in these days of the bay swinging with tide and the waves; the sails are all up, and you wonder why it does not move; but it cannot, for deep down beneath the water it is anchored. Sentiments like the above and like those to the Kaiser are anchored; they must remain only words without being put into formidable effect. When Roosevelt proffered a truce between Russia and Japan he fulfilled the purpose of serving the rest of the world, just as much as it served us. One act is worth an ocean of promises. What has this administration done to fulfill any part of this glorious American creed?

ELIJAH E. KNOTT.

Not Connected with G. U.

Editor of The Washington Herald: Recently the papers of Washington published an article that the Kappa Pi Fraternity of Georgetown University would celebrate this summer on Sycamore Island, on the Potomac, I, as an officer of the fraternity, wish to call your attention to an error in the above statement.

As a matter of fact this fraternity has no connection with Georgetown or any other college whatsoever. The statement has caused considerable embarrassment in different quarters, and I take this opportunity of asking you to inform the public of the error made.

RICHARD F. GORMAN.

How We Invited War.

Editor of The Washington Herald: We are on the razor's edge. The abysses of war fascinate us. Like a bird, we are paralyzed by the glance of the serpent of destruction. Why? Because we played the bird, the timid fool; we thought the tall timber was our safety. If we had played the lion's part and bared our teeth at the first hint of aspersion—may of incense this summer on Sycamore Island, on the Potomac, I, as an officer of the fraternity, wish to call your attention to an error in the above statement.

HENRY C. STUART.

The School Forums.

Editor of The Washington Herald: Truth is the conformity of thought to the reality of things.

Albert Rosenberg says in the Open Forum of last Sunday: "Civics has only recently been introduced in the school curriculum and there is no place at the present time where the adult population can get any knowledge of it." Doesn't the gentleman know that over 150 organizations are now using the school buildings under the law of March 4, 1915, and that there is room for more?

The advocates of the community forum bill seem to want us to believe almost anything but the truth. They might as well quit. We know the truth, much of the truth, about the present law, and the effort to get rid of it; and we shall be right here on the job when the sun goes down and when it comes up. We shall fight to the end, and then some.

Let me suggest that it would be, as it seems to me, a very proper thing for them to do to rid their ranks of the man from the bureau of education who, when asked before the congressional committee on the Johnson-Hollis bill, "What is your salary?" Answered, "One dollar a year." He should get out for their sakes.

W. C. ARNETT.

Gen. Lee's Witticisms.
Editor of The Washington Herald: On only one occasion, so far as I know, did Gen. Robert E. Lee ever indulge in a pleasantry, or a witticism. The following is the story:

In the spring of 1863, Gen. Joseph Hooker was put in command of the Federal army to succeed Gen. Burnside, who had been defeated in the battle of Fredericksburg. Hooker's success in the west had given him the sobriquet of "Fighting Joe Hooker," and when he was put in command of the Army of the Potomac he wished to maintain his reputation as a fighter. On assuming command he issued an ostentatious and bombastic order declaring that he had heard much talk of lines of retreat, but that the only lines a soldier should seek were not those of retreat, but those that led most directly to the enemy. The order concluded by announcing that his "headquarters would be in the saddle."

Gen. Lee on reading this order remarked that Gen. Hooker mistook his headquarters for his hindquarters; that it was his hindquarters and not his headquarters that were in the saddle.

L. S. MARYE.

A Secular Prayer.

Editor of The Washington Herald: May we continually grow stronger, so that we can succor those who are growing weaker; that there are those who suffer persecution on account of race, creed, or color, let us be more sympathetic, that they may find more pleasure in life and appreciate that nature's sunshine is for all humanity. If our fellowman commits a wrong, let us not hide him too severely, but rather give him to understand that it is human to err; then he will realize more fully that he has our love, hence will be more apt to forsake his vice.

Let us make it a pleasure to help our fellowman. If he is crippled, or his eyes see not, let us constantly watch over him; if he has a family and is without means, let us see that he has a home, where he can be surrounded by his loved one, instead of sending him to a public institution.

Let us learn to tolerate those who cannot tolerate us, as they are only controlled by their weakness. Those who do not agree with us are as firm in their convictions as we are in ours; if they cannot see the sunshine and feel its healthful rays, we must appreciate it all the more and be thankful that we are endowed with the powers of sight and feeling.

Let us be kind to all living creatures, particularly to that noble animal, the horse, as well as to man's best friend, the dog. All of these blessings we ask, because it gives us pleasure, and we feel that nature intended it so.

B. M. MILLER.

The Election in Somerset, Md.

Editor of The Washington Herald: The Herald of April 22 brought the information that the "Resident of Somerset Will Choose Mayor and Councilmen."

If The Herald's statement is correct, then one of two possible conditions is true—either there are no women in Somerset or the women residents of Somerset will vote at the spring election.

On the suffrage map Maryland is painted black, which would indicate that the men of Maryland have not reached that high degree of civilization which enables them to grant to the women of Maryland equal opportunities with the men.

In the West we think of Maryland as a State where black men are allowed to vote, but where white women are denied enfranchisement. All kinds of men vote, wise and simple, rich and poor, strong and weak, industrious and lazy, steadfast and vacillating, fit and unfit, white and black, good, bad and indifferent,

Like a Boy at 50 Bubbling Over With Vitality—Taking Iron Did It

Doctor says Nuxated Iron is greatest of all strength builders—Often increases the strength and endurance of delicate, nervous folks 200 per cent in two weeks time.

New York, N. Y.—Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of 20 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact, a young man he really was, notwithstanding his age. The secret he said was taking iron—nuxated iron. He had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in the bad health; at 40 careworn and nearly all in. Now at 50 a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth. As I have said a hundred times over, iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only throw away patent medicines and nauseous concoctions and take simple nuxated iron, I am convinced that the lives of thousands of persons might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, consumption, kidney, liver and heart trouble, etc. The real and true cause which started their diseases was nothing more or less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing any good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly looking. Just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form and in the proper amount. But don't make the old mistake of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed, and assimilated like nuxated iron. If you want to do any good, otherwise if you are an athlete or prize-fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the fray, while many another has gone down to ignominious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

E. Sauer, M. D.
NOTE.—Nuxated Iron, recommended as Dr. Sauer, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older iron preparations, it is easily assimilated, does not irritate the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have won great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to refund $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take and increase their strength 200 per cent in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is distributed in this city by Sigmund's Drug Store, 736-7th Street, Near H. People's Drug Store, and all other druggists.—Adt.
